To whom it may concern,

Railway Management Certificate Program (RMCP) – 2026 Fee Projection

Thank you for your interest in the Railway Management Certificate Program (RMCP). While final pricing for the 2027 program cycle has not yet been set, tuition typically follows an annual inflationary adjustment to reflect rising instructional and operational costs. Final rates are usually confirmed in the summer prior to the release of the upcoming year's schedule.

Based on historical trends, we anticipate an approximate 5% increase for the 2027 program. Under this projection, the estimated tuition would be:

- USD 5,750 per module, or
- USD 23,000 for the full four-module program

Participants enrolling in the full program are eligible for the following discounts:

- USD 2,500 bundle discount (applied when all four modules are completed)
- USD 500 group discount for organizations registering two or more participants
- USD 500 early-bird discount, available through February 28 each year

With all applicable discounts, the projected total tuition for the full program is USD 19,500 per participant.

This projection is provided for planning purposes and will be updated once final 2027 pricing is approved.

Sincerely,

The Eli Broad
