Benjamin Newbatt Esq.
President of The Institute of Actuaries
London.

Dear Sir,

A native Life Insurance Company about to commence business in this city is in need of an Actuary thoroughly conversant with the management & book-keeping; in every way a practical man able to direct a young concern...

I have taken the liberty of addressing you as an authority on the matter, and beg you will be so good as to hand this letter to an Actuary of your selection, with the request that he will kindly communicate to me the conditions, etc. under which he would be prepared to come out to this country & undertake the general supervision of a Life Insurance Company.

I beg you, Sir, to accept in anticipation my best thanks for the help you will render the Company by kindly acceding to the request of Yours very truly

N. B. I would add that a knowledge of the French language is essential... preferable.
