

Brazil's Ministry of Finance invites you to the second webinar with civil society on the COP30 Circle of Finance Ministers

The Ministry of Finance of Brazil invites civil society representatives to join the 2nd Webinar on the COP30 Circle of Finance Ministers, to be held on July 24th, 2025 (Thursday), from 8:30 AM to 11:00 AM (Brasília time – UTC-3), via Webex.

This session is part of an ongoing dialogue with local and global civil society. It will present an overview of the first draft of the Report developed under the Circle, opening space for gathering feedback and input from participants. These contributions will be considered in the revision process and the preparation of the second draft, alongside inputs collected through the first webinar, side events, and the online consultation form.

The Circle of Finance Ministers is an initiative led by Brazil's Ministry of Finance, at the invitation of the COP30 Presidency. It aims to enhance the role of finance ministries in the climate agenda and contribute to the development of the Baku to Belém Roadmap — an initiative jointly led by the COP29 and COP30 Presidencies to mobilize at least USD 1.3 trillion in climate finance for developing countries by 2035.

The session will feature a presentation by Ambassador Tatiana Rosito, Secretary for International Affairs of Brazil's Ministry of Finance, followed by an open-mic session to hear directly from civil society participants, with 5-minute speaking slots and responses from the Brazilian side.
